

Dear Mom and Dad,

Welcome to the Traveling Circus That Time Forgot, Inc.! Our wonderful circus is an old-fashioned entertainment value. We give you lots of "extras" that you won't find elsewhere, like this funbook we've put together to keep your little ones busy during the exciting moments before the show.

We go out of our way to provide customer satisfaction!

Have a good time, and come back soon.

Your friend,

Tomas Munrab

Isn't it fun at the circus? The show will start any minute, but while you're waiting, here are some games for you to play.

Connect the dots from one to one hundred and three. Someone familiar you will see. He's the one who says "Let the show begin!" When you get home, you can color him in.

Wouldn't you like to explore the circus lot? Now you can! If you unfold your funbook, you'll find a map of the circus. Here's a fun way to play with the map: Ask Mom or Dad for a penny. Put the penny in the performance ring and pretend it's you. (It will look even more like you if you put the penny head side up.)

Following the paths around the circus lot, walk your penny from the performance ring to the prop tent. On your way, why not stop at the concession stand for a chocolate-covered banana? They really are yummy, and they cost only $2.25. I bet Mom and Dad would like one too.

Now go to Clown Alley. This is where you would live if you were a clown. Maybe someday you'll grow up to be a clown, but for now it's easy to pretend with the Happy Face Clown Makeup Kit, ten fantastic makeup items at one low price. It's yours for $4.50 at any one of the many Toy 'n' Treat stands around the lot.

The Toy 'n' Treat stands also have a cute little monkey-on-a-stick who looks just like our gorilla, Mahler. A real gorilla costs thousands of dollars, but you can have a monkey-on-a-stick for just $3.75. Can you and your new toy monkey find Mahler's cage?

While you're at the menagerie, don't forget to buy some peanuts for old Hannibal. Since you're not allowed to feed the animals, you'll have to eat them yourself! You'll find them a delicious treat, and at 90¢, they're a real bargain. Why not get two bags?

Now walk your penny back to the performance ring. The show is about to begin!

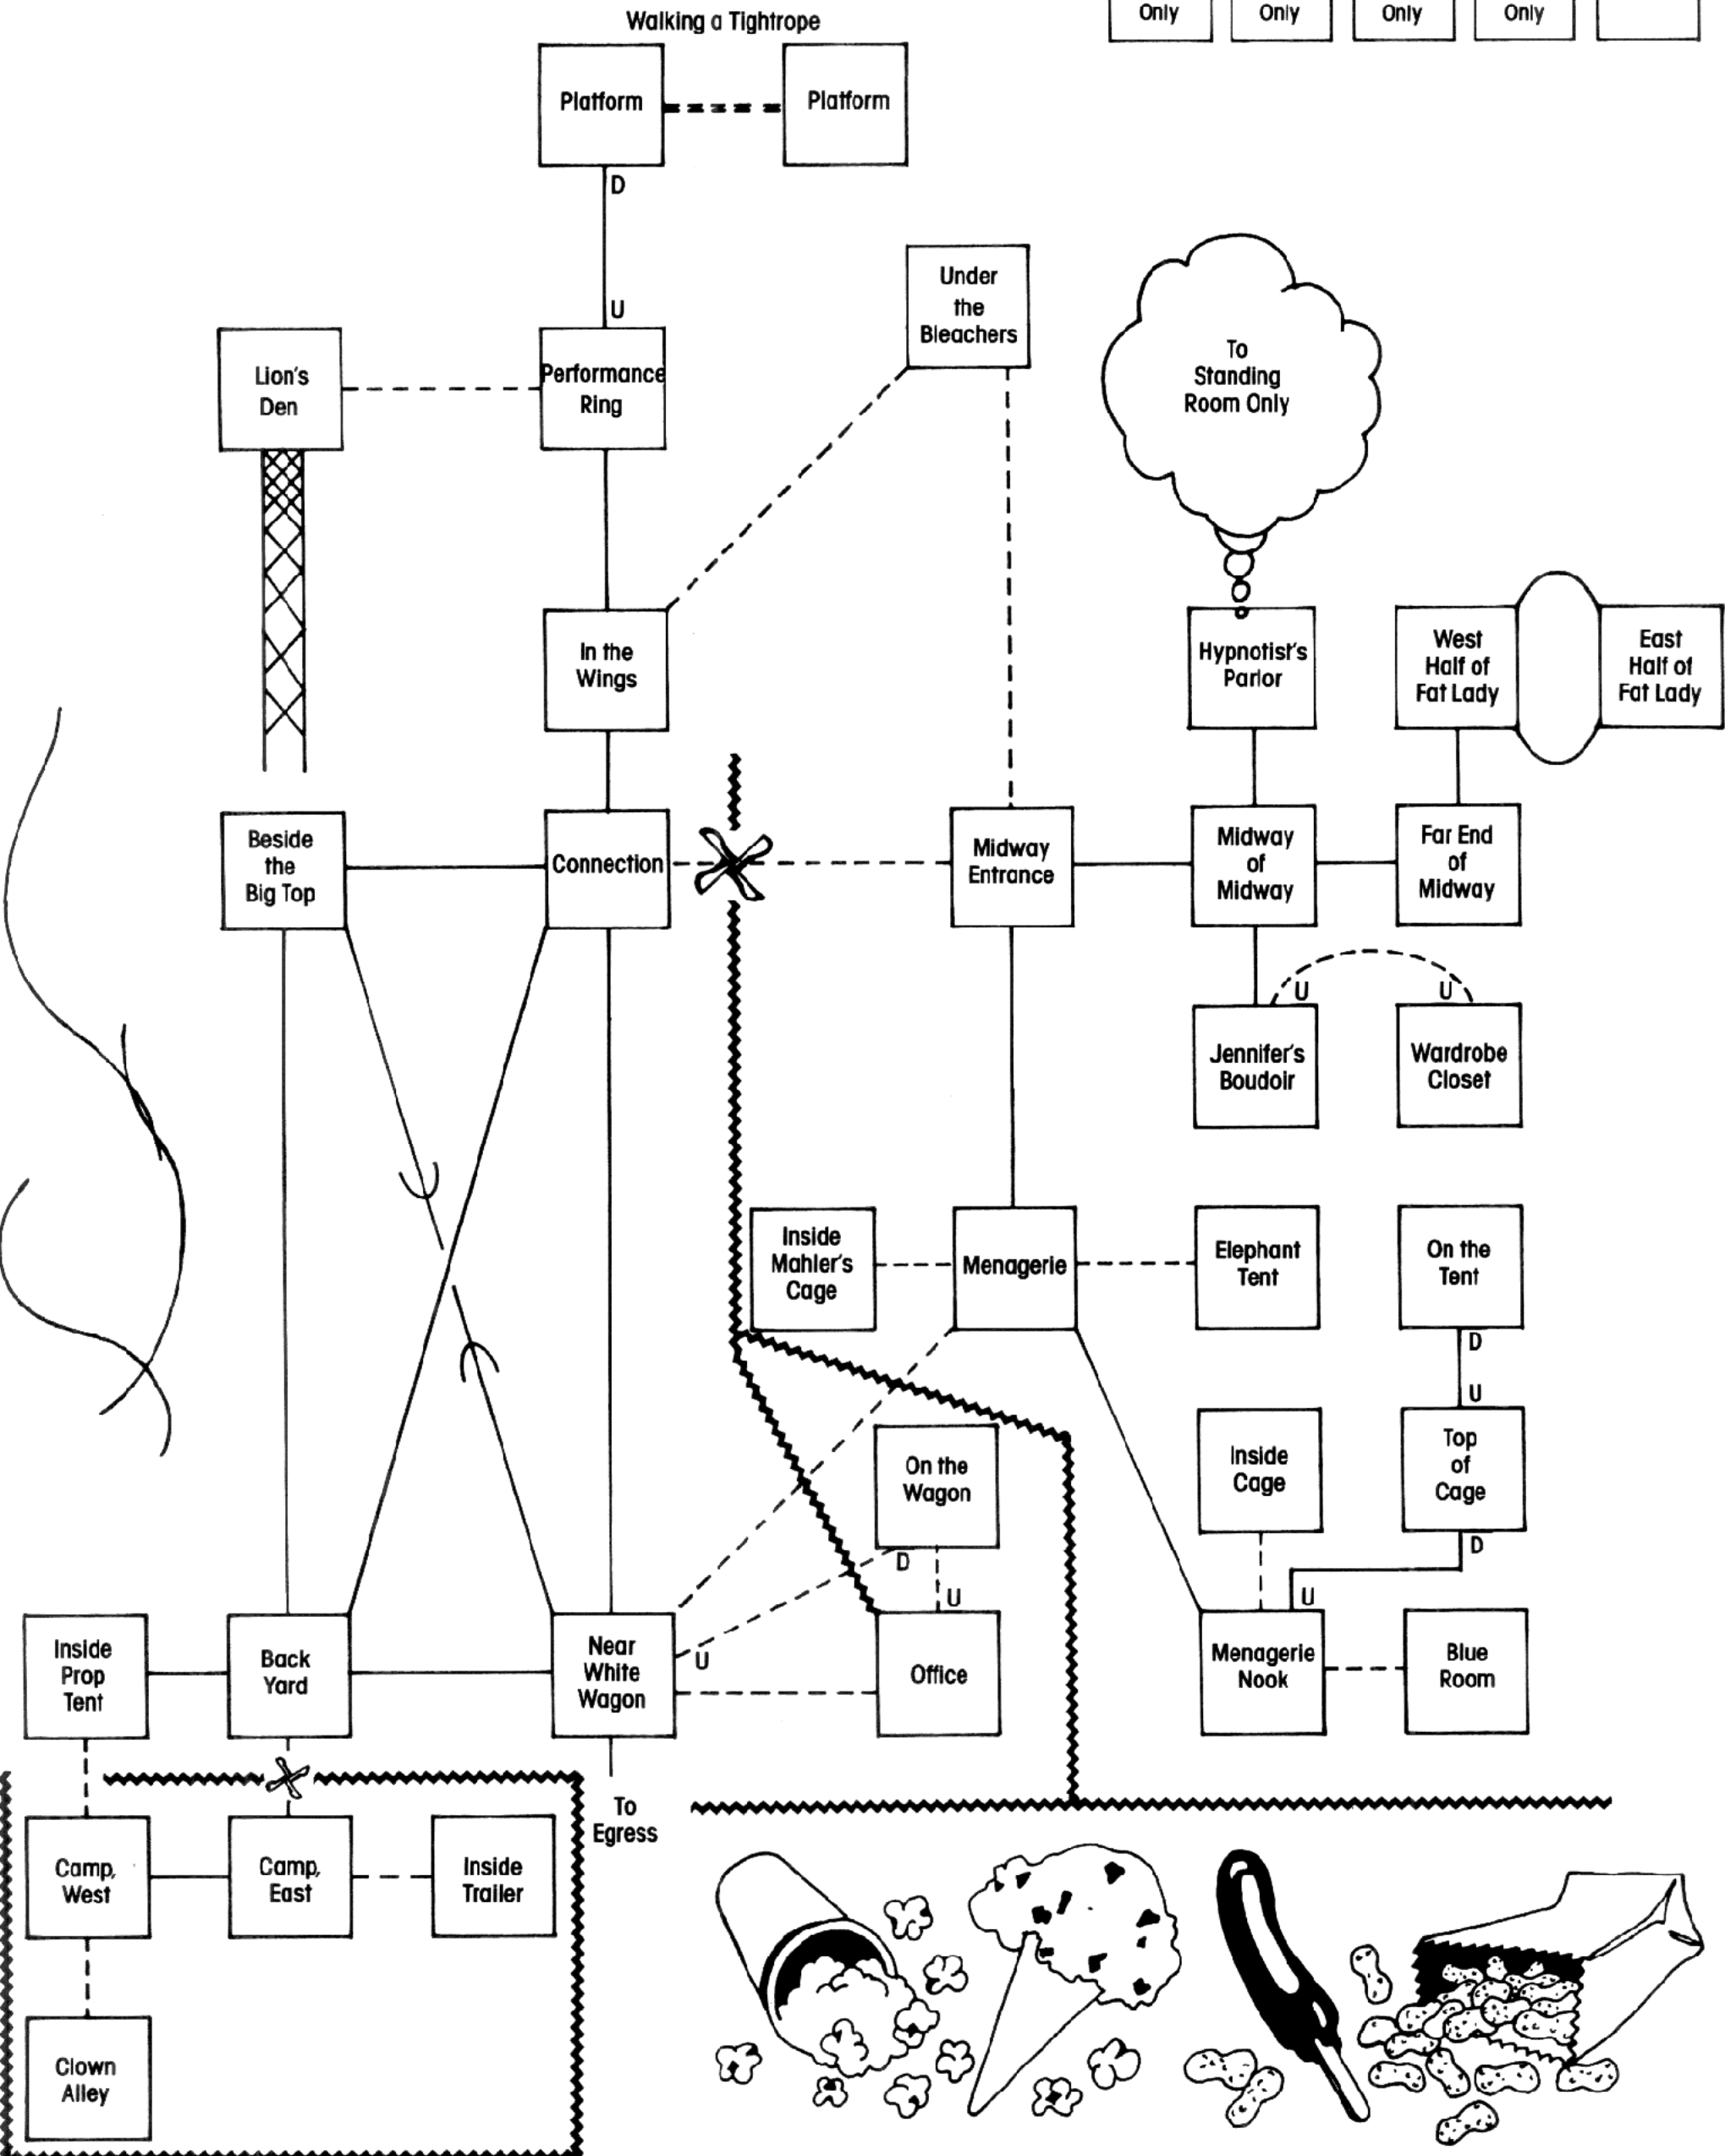

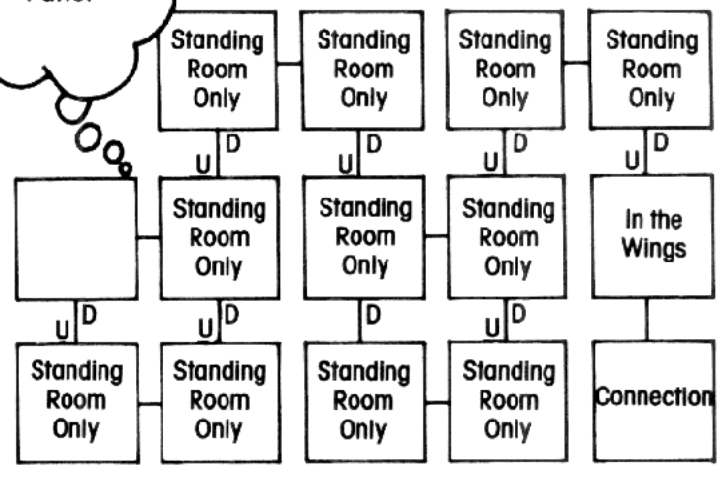

Don't you love birthdays? Chuckles the Clown does! And Chuckles invites you to have your next birthday party at the circus! Here's how it works:

Just tell Mom that you'd like to have your birthday party at The Traveling Circus That Time Forgot, Inc. She can buy tickets at a special discount price for you and all your friends* and Chuckles himself will wish you a happy birthday during the show. You even get a free balloon! Doesn't that sound like fun?

If the circus won't be in town during your birthday, why not plan an early party? Chuckles wants to help YOU celebrate!

* 25% off the regular ticket price. Minimum 12 tickets per party. Visit the ticket booth to make arrangements.

Hey, buddy!
I think I found the map for this Year's Pigeon Day Student-Faculty
Scavenger Hunt-- copped it from a trashcan in the Alchemy Dept. when I was on clean-up duty. I haven't had much time to look it over, but there seems to be some pretty weird stuff here. Put it in a safe place and we'll check it out tomorrow.

It looks like we've got this one sewed up! Guess this is one of the benefits of working your way through

DORES GREAT PICTURE.-- THE VALE OF TEARS. Now ON VIEW at the Dore Gallery, No. 35, New Bond-street.

AN altogether exceptional and pathetic interest attaches to the latest addition, to the Dore Gallery -- The VALE of TEARS -- the last work produced by the vanished hand of the great Akaian. It is a rendering of 'Come unto Me: all ye that travail and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest.' The background of the picture represents the Vale of Tears, a shadowy valley flanked by an enormous crag. At the entrance stands the Saviour clothed in white, bearing a cross. The Divine figure is surrounded by a shadowy light, symbolizing Hope even in the Vale of Tears. It is filled by a number of typical figures, representing the weary and heavy laden one. Every class of human suffering is represented. The king, glorious in cloth of gold, turns a wan, despairing, beseeching face to Christ. The aged and feeble, the maimed, the halt, and the blind, and the hated and despised leper, all look to Christ for the rest which earth denies them. It is a beautiful and touching subject to have been the outcome of the great artist's very last thoughts. -- Society.

FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE.

THE TREASON TRIAL AT LEIPSIC.

LEIPSIC, 16/6/87.

In the trial for high treason to-day, after the final arguments had been heard, the Procurator-General demanded sentences of two to three years' hard labour in the case of the four accused, several years' detention in a fortress for two others, and acquittal for the remaining two.

Counsel for the defence asked for the acquittal of their clients, failing which the sentence should only be detention in a fortress.

FIRE IN ROUMANIA.

BUCHAREST, 16/6/87.

Intelligence has been received that a destructive fire broke out yesterday at Botuchany and destroyed part of the town. The official report states that 800 houses have been burnt and seven people killed. The conflagration was still raging.

ABDUCTION OF A LADY.

PARIS, 16/6/87.

The newspapers this evening report that Mdle. Martinez Campos was carried off yesterday in broad daylight in the Bois de Boulogne by some man or men unknown. The police, whose assistance has been applied for by the Spanish Ambassador, are making inquiries, but up to the present no trace has been found either of the missing lady or her kidnappers.

The Temps believes the author of the abduction to be a French gentleman who has been an unsuccessful suitor for the hand of Mdle. Martinez Campos.

THE CRIMES BILL.

JUBILEE TREAT.

PARIS, 16/6/87.

The British children, Protestants, Catholics, and Jews, to the number of nearly 800, the younger ones accompanied by their mothers, had a jubilee treat to-day at Achores, in the Forest of Saint Germain. There were babies only five weeks old as well as boys and girls in their teens, the children of French fathers and English mothers and of English fathers and French mothers being admitted. A jubilee medal was given to each child. Amusements of all kinds were arranged and, notwithstanding the intense heat, the treat was much enjoyed. The national anthem was sung and hearty cheers were given for the Queen, with a cheer for President Grevy. On Monday a dinner will be given to British workmen at Saint Mandé.

GERMANY.

BERLIN, 16/6/87.

The Emperor is declared to be progressing as well as can be expected, and to-day he was again able to leave his bed for several hours. He received a visit of about half an hour's duration from Prince Bismark, who, it is understood, is about to leave town for Friedrichsruh. It is, therefore, not probable that the Emperor and his Chancellor will meet again, if all goes well, before the month of August, when the Prince means to pass some weeks at Kissingen, and His Majesty will go to Gastein. But from the point of view of Berlin the political outlook is at present decidedly reassuring, and unless Bulgaria again furnishes Europe with cause of excitement and uneasiness there is every prospect of a dull diplomatic summer. Such is the general report, which Prince Bismark doubtless gave this afternoon at his parting audience of the Emperor.

It having come to the knowledge of the authorities that certain persons who have received tickets for the Jubilee Service in Westminster Abbey are selling them at large prices, we are requested to point out that the tickets are marked "not transferable," and to warn the purchasers that precautions have been taken which will effectually prevent any tickets being made use of by those not rightly entitled to them.

With a view to insure free circulation and to prevent confusion on the night of the illuminations, the 21st inst., the Commissioner of Police for the Metropolis requests that the foot passengers, in those thoroughfares where vehicular traffic is excluded, will pass along in two streams -- left hand to left hand -- keeping to the right side of the roadway. In those thoroughfares where there is a sharp incline the public are earnestly requested to proceed leisurely down hill.

MARLBOROUGH HOUSE, JUNE 16.

The Crown Princess of Germany, accompanied by the Princesses Victoria, Sophie, and Margaret of Prussia, the Infante Antonio d'Orleans and the Infanta Eulalie of Spain, and the Grand Duke Michael of Russia visited the Prince and Princess of Wales to-day, and remained to luncheon.

Prince George of Wales arrived in London this afternoon from the Mediterranean.

The Prince and Princess of Wales, Prince Albert Victor, the Princesses Louise, Victoria, and Maud, and Prince George of Greece met his Royal Highness at the Chalfing-cross Station.

Their Royal Highnesses visited the Duke of Edinburgh and the Grand Duke and Grand Duchess Serge of Russia on their arrival at Clarence House.

THE QUEEN'S JUBILEE.

It has now been decided that the Princess of Wales shall go down to Buckingham Palace with her daughters in an open carriage drawn by four horses, followed by two carriages containing the household suite of the Prince of Wales. At the Palace the Princess of Wales will alight and will subsequently enter the Queen's carriage, where she will sit during the procession facing her Majesty, the Crown Princess of Germany being seated by the Queen's side. The Princess accompanying her Majesty will wear the military Uniform of their respective corps, the Prince of Wales being in the uniform of a General. The foreign Princes present will wear the uniform of their own army.

Yesterday General Gipps, C. B., commanding the Home District, in conference with his Royal Highness the Field-Marshal Commanding-in-Chief, finally settled the arrangements for the great military and naval display to be made

The number of troops ordered out will exceed 10,000. All the troops will be in review order, and are to be in position at 9:15 a.m.

Five hundred boys of the Royal Naval College will be formed in two ranks in Trafalgar-square facing west in front of the troops lining the route, and the boys of the Duke of York's School are ordered to be in position in front of the troops at Constitution-hill. The bands will be placed at intervals along the route, and on the arrival of Her Majesty will play the National Anthem.

A Parliamentary paper was issued yesterday giving the report of the Select Committee appointed to consider what means should be adopted for the attendance of the House of Commons at the Thanksgiving Service at Westminster Abbey. The report is as follows:-- "That each member be admitted to the Abbey by ticket. "That a space in the North Transept, accommodation dating 540, is set apart for members. Provision will be made for the Speaker, Chairman of Ways and Means, Ministers, ex-Ministers, and Privy Council-lors to sit in the front seats. The remainder of the seats will be numbered, reserved, and allotted by ballot.

"The Levee dress is expected to be worn by Ministers, ex-Ministers, and Privy Councllors. For other members Levee dress will be optional.

"That carriages should arrive at the entrance to Westminster Hall not later than 10 a.m.

"That members, accompanied by their wives; will proceed through St. Stephen's Porch by a covered way to the North Door of the Abbey, and after the ceremony will return to the House or their carriages.

"That members of the House shall sit together, and that their wives be separately provided for by numbered and reserved seats. Front seats will be reserved in the Ladies' Gallery for Mrs. Peel, Mrs. Courtney, and the wives of Ministers, ex-Ministers, and Privy Councllors.

"That the clerks and officers of the House of Commons, not exceeding 35 in number, shall be permitted to accompany the members of the House and have tickets issued to them accordingly."

Yesterday, at Grosvenor-house, a general meeting of the representatives of the subscribers to the Women's Offering to Her Majesty was held under the presidency of the Duke of Westminster. Sir James M'Garel-Hogg, M. P. on behalf of the trustees of the fund, reported that £72,000 had been paid in to the names of the trustees, and that still more had been subscribed. After remarks by the Duchess of Montrose, the Marchioness of Hertford, the Baroness Burdett-Coutts, the Countess of Effingham, Lady Jane Taylor, Mrs. Cyril Flower, Lady Har-lech, the Countess of Sandwich, and the Countess of Bradford, it was unanimously resolved that after providing for the Prince Consort's statue in Wind-sor-park the disposition of the surplus should be left to the unfettered discretion of Her Majesty herself.

The Dean of Westminster has forwarded to Mr. Hamilton Hoare, as treasurer of the Hospital Saturday Fund, 350 cards of admission to the service at the Abbey on Wednesday next. These tickets will be distributed through the agency of the Hospital Saturday Fund to working class people. Extensive arrangements are being made by the railway companies for the celebration of the jubilee. While re, any trains will run to London bringing visitors to take part in the central celebration, other passengers will be conveyed to the country either to take part in local festivities or to profit by the brief holiday which the national rejoicing supplies.

It is stated that a very large number of gentlemen having houses in town with illuminations for jubilee night have decided to give the public several evenings' enjoyment of the spectacle. Some of the more important illuminations will be lit up on Monday night (Coronation Day) as well as on Tuesday (Jubilee Day) and Wednesday nights, so as to give greater opportunities to visitors to see them in different parts of London. The illumination of the block of houses at the upper end of Grosvenor-place, consisting of the residences of Mr. W. H. Smith, the Duke of Northumberland, Sir Edward Guinness, and the Wellington Club, will be lit up on Monday and Tuesday evenings. The owners of the houses comprised in this block have agreed on a common plan of illumination, which is likely to be one of the finest in London.

ROYAL VICTORIA PATRIOTIC ASYLUM FOR GIRLS.--Yesterday her Royal Highness the Princess of Wales distributed the prizes at the Royal Victoria Patriotic Asylum for Girls, Wandsworth-common, in connexion with the Royal Commission Patriotic Fund. The event may be looked upon as a result of the jubilee, this being the first time of resumption of the interest taken by the Royal Family in the institution since the death of the Prince Consort, who was the first president of the Commission. The ceremony was held in the dining hall, which was half-filled by the 263 children in the school. The Princess of Wales, accompanied by the Prince of Wales, their daughters Princesses Maud and Louise, Prince Albert Victor, &c., arrived at 4.30, and having been conducted to the dais, the children sang the National Anthem, after which the Princess presented the prizes to the 54 winners. The children sang "God Bless the Prince of Wales," after which the Duke of Cambridge, specially addressing them, said this should be a red letter day in their history, and that they should feel flattered in having had the honour of receiving notice from so august a lady as the Princess. He hoped they would ever remember this bright day, and that it would be an extra incentive to them to be loyal and do their duty in the future. He concluded by expressing the feeling of the Commission at the honour which had been done them. The Prince and Princess then inspected the various wards, after which they drove away, amid the cheers of the assembled children.

SHORT TIME IN THE COTTON TRADE.

The meeting of the cotton spinners and manufacturers of Lancashire will be held to-day in Manchester. The employers in several districts are so far under order that they are holding altogether aloof from the agitation. A substantial addition of favour-able replies since Tuesday is reported, but there is a fear that the full two-thirds of the spindles will not have been reached. It is expected that a proposal will be made for those who have sent in their replies to agree to run short time for several weeks. There is a more general stoppage of looms through bad trade, and an increased number of notices was put up yesterday to close all next week.

PRODUCE MARKET.

THURSDAY EVENING.

There will not be any public sales in Mincing-lane after to-morrow until this day week. Messrs. W.J. and H. Thompson report:--"There have been slight alterations to report in the produce markets beyond a further sharp decline upon coffee, which has now fallen 3s. to 6s. per cwt. from the late highest point. The semi-panic in New York, followed by violent fluctuations in Havre, seems to have weakened confidence, but importers generally do not accept the extreme reduction, and several of the public sales advertised for this week were withdrawn. Costa Rica and Guatemala show the greatest fall. To-day the tone of the market is flat. Good average Santos in Havre, which on Tuesday sold down to 106 1/2f., is now at 114 1/2f. August, and the American market more settled. Receipts at the Brazil ports have been larger for the time of the year, and quotations are lower. The first steamer from Hankow with new season's tea is expected to arrive here at the end of next week; meanwhile, business remains inactive.

TEA:-- Messrs. Hawes and Hertz report:--"To-day's small China auction passed without alteration. Catalogues comprised of 1,742 packages green tea and 1,141 boxes new season's new make Congou, at from 7 1/2d. to 11 1/2d. per lb: At the Indian sales, consisting of 1,152 packages Indian, 1,232 Ceylon, and 248 packages Java tea, yesterday's depressed tone was again apparent."

SPICES:-- Pepper steady, and further business done in black to arrive. Cloves better, with some business in Zanzibar.

-COTTON:-- The market continues slow, but prices are fully maintained, American futures having advanced 1-32d. per lb.

COLONIAL WOOL:-- This evening's catalogue contained a total of 11,959 bales. There was excellent competition, and prices ruled very firm, especially for the finer descriptions of crossbred produce.

SHELLAC:-- A few transactions at steady rates.

GREEN FRUITS:-- Messrs. M. Isaacs and Sons' report:--"Since the issue of our last our market has been but scantily supplied with oranges, Valencia's having practically finished for the season. A small consignment of Malagas, in capital condition, realized very good prices. The few Lis-bons and Sicilians offered also sold well. Naples in fair supply, and good all-round rates were obtained. Lemons -- Further arrivals of Naples, for which better trade ruled at enhanced values, weather being favourable to the trade. Palermo also considerably improved. St. Michael pine. apples brought fair prices; arrivals moderate. Potatoes -- Lisbons sell freely at slightly improved rates. Jerseys (kidneys) are arriving in goodly quantities. Malas realise fair values. Onions--Lisbons continue dull. Egyptians moving slowly at recent low prices. Cocoaanut market unchanged."

THE EMIN PASHA RELIEF EXPEDITION.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE THAMES.

Sir, -- I have much pleasure in forwarding you a copy of a letter from Mr. H.M. Stanley, dated Stanley Pool, April 26. This is the letter to which I alluded in my last communication. It describes in graphic and forcible language some of the difficulties with which Mr. Stanley has had to contend.

The flotilla under his command must move slowly and will take from 40 to 50 days in ascending the Congo. This would time Mr. Stanley's arrival at the Byerre, where he proposes to make an entrenched camp, about the 10th of this month, and at the date I am writing he has probably commenced the land journey of 350 miles which separates him from the Albert Nyanza and Emin Pasha.

It is possible the steamers may return in time to catch the Portuguese mail of July, in which case we may have news of the expedition about the middle of August; but it is most probable that we shall not hear from them till about the 15th of September.

Faithfully yours,

F. DE WINTON, 28,

Wynnstay-gardens, June 16.

"Camp near Leopoldville, Stanley Pool, April 26.

"My dear Mackinnon-- I arrived at this place on the 21st inst., after 28 days march from the Lower Congo. The rainy season and the flooded rivers have impeded us greatly. The latter have been deep and impetuous, detaining us two days at each un-fordable stream, and causing great anxiety. The' country suffers from great scarcity of food, and I have had to feed this large caravan with rice brought from the coast. Considering all these unfortunate circumstances, we have no great reason to complain. At Stanley Pool they say we have arrived wonderfully quick. Had the season been more propitious they would have had still further cause for saying so.

"But, bad as is the condition of the famine-stricken country below, in the neighborhood of Stanley Pool it is worse. I have been here five days, and 'the people with me have only managed to secure a few bananas, just sufficient to feed 200 men one day, and I have 750 with me. It is a period of great anxiety with me, and whether we shall be able to tide it over without breach of order I know not. The Zanzibaris are very loyal, very obedient; the officers, who are all English gentlemen, are super-excellent. With such good qualities the expedition may be expected to do all that is required by human nature. My duty, however, is not to put too severe a strain on such admirable qualities, and relieve these people as soon as possible from the temptation to be otherwise than they ought to be.

"The State, the English missions and traders are in the same difficulties of provisioning their dependants as we are. You can imagine how great the stress is here when the State after sending foraging parties round about the district can only secure food enough for a third of its force. The other two-thirds live on hippopotamus meat, which their hunters provide. We have also sent out our hunters. We have had one hippopotamus within five days for 750 souls. There are four parties of hunters searching Stanley Pool to-day for hippo meat. The missions have but few men with them, so it is not such an extreme case with them. But, strange to say, not one mission station can supply its own people. They have not planted a single banana plant since I was here three years ago. I should say they were in a worse state than when I left. They live on what is provided for them in Europe and America and 'Let be everything, struggle no longer' seems to me to be their motto. It is not the fault of the soil nor the climate. The soil is rich and is adapted for the cultivation of bananas, and maize, and rice.

"In 1881 I relieved two missionaries named Clarke and Laureley. They had suffered a misfortune; a fire had consumed all their effects. They sent me an appeal for provisions. I provided them with a fair allowance from our own stores. They belonged to the Livingstone Inland Mission. "In 1883 a missionary named Simms applied for a site at Stanley Pool to establish a mission of the Livingstone Inland Mission. His colleagues had vainly strived without aid from me to obtain permission from the natives. I gave on order to the chief of Leopoldville to locate Dr. Simms on a site in the neighbourhood of the station, so that, times being unsettled then, the mission could be under our immediate protections. In 1884 I extended the grounds of this mission, and also gave it a site for a branch mission at the Equator, subject, of course, to confirmation at Brussels.

"By a curious event -- on arriving at Stanley Pool this time -- I found myself in a position of abject suppliant for favour. His Majesty the Sovereign of this Congo State had invited me to take the Congo River route to relieve Emin Pasha at Wadelai. Provided the steamers and boats were at Stanley Pool in time, without doubt this route was by far the cheapest and best, even though food was not over abundant. I therefore accepted the invitation and came here. But I had not anticipated this distressful scarcity of food, nor the absence of steamers and boats.

"To every one at Stanley Pool it was clear that a disaster would be the consequence of this irruption of a large caravan upon a scene so unpromising as this foodless district. The only remedy for it was immediate departure up river.

"Long before arrival I had sent letters of appeal to the English Baptist Mission, owners of the steamer Ponce, and to the Livingstone Inland Mission which is now American and owners of the' steamer Henry Reed, for aid to transport the expedition to Bobola immediately upon arrival at Stanley Pool. Reports confirmatory of the state of famine in that district were daily reaching me and immediate departure was our only means of saving life and preventing a gross scandal. "A few days later I received a letter from a Mr. Billington in charge of the Henry Reed saying he could not lend the steamer for such purpose, as he wanted to go down river -- overhead to the Lower Congo -- for some purpose and next month the Livingstone Inland Mission expected some missionaries, and in the interval the steamer Henry Reed was to be drawn up on the slip to be repainted.

"You will observe, as I did, that there was no question of urgency; the steamer was to lie idle on the slip for repainting while Mr. Billington should go down river to be comfortably married to some lady whose photograph he had seen, for this was 'the purpose' that was taking him from the Pool. "Meantime the starving people would be tempted to force from every native or white the food which they could not obtain by purchase; and no one knows to what extent disorder would spread, if I did my duty I should have had to repress it sternly. Still, whether my people or the natives would suffer most, it is clear that the condition of things would be deplorable.

"From the English Baptist Mission I received a letter from its chief stating that unless orders to the contrary would arrive from home that he would lend me the steamer and be happy to help me.

"Arriving at the Pool, and seeing more fully the extent of district suffering from scarcity of food, I sent Major Barttelot and Mr. Mountney Jephson to represent more fully our desperate position to the Livingstone Inland Mission. They saw Messrs. Billington and Simms. They tell me they urged the missionaries by all the means within their power for over an hour to reconsider their refusal, and to assist us. They were said to have declined. Mr. Billington argued that he had consulted the Bible and found therein a command not to assist us; besides, he must get down the river to 'meet his wife that was to be.' Dr. Simms echoed this as resolutely.

"I consulted the governor of Stanley Pool district Mons. Liebrichts, and represented to him that a great scandal was inevitable unless means were devised to extricate us from the difficulty. I told him I could not be a disinterested witness to the sufferings which starvation would bring with it; that therefore a formal requisition should be made by him on the missions for the use of their Steamers for a short term of, say, 40 days; that the Henry Reed was evidently, according to Mr. Billington's letter, to lie idle for a period over two months; that this period could be utilized by us in saving hundreds of lives; that their objections were frivolous, and those of Dr. Simms were the result of a refusal by me to, employ him on this expedition, while Mr. Billing-ton was only hanging after the pleasures of marriage with a person whom he never saw. M. Liebrichts admitted that the position was desperate and extreme; that the State was also in a painful uncertainty as to whether provisions could be procured for its people each day.

"The next morning Major Barttelot and Mr. Mountney Jephson were sent over again to the Livingstone Inland Mission to try a third appeal with Mr. Billington, who only replied that he had 'prayerfully wrestled even unto the third watch' against the necessity there was of refusing the Henry Reed. He was confirmed in his opinion that he was 'acting wisely and well.' Meantime it was reported to me that Mr. Billington had furtively abstracted the valves and pistons of the engines for the purpose of hiding them. I therefore hesitated no longer, but sent a guard of Soudanese down to the steamer and another guard with Major Barttelot to demand the immediate surrender of the steamer and her belongings. Major Barttelot kept his guard without the domain of the mission and walked in alone with the letter.

"The Commissaire of the State, seeing matters becoming critical, ordered a guard to relieve the Soudanese at the steamer, and went in person to the missionaries to insist that the steamer should be surrendered to the State.

"Our guard was withdrawn upon an assurance being given that no article should be withdrawn or hidden.

"For two days the matter continued in the hands of M. Liebrichts, who at last signed a charter in due form by which the mission permits the hire of the steamer Henry Reed to us for the sum of £100 sterling per month, which is at the rate of 30 per cent annum of her estimated value.

"But what ungrateful people' some of these mis-donaries are! Faith they may have in superabundance -- in hope they no doubt live cheerfully; but of charity I do not find the slightest trace. However our matter is ended and our anxiety has abated

"The Stanley, steamer, left here yesterday for Mawata with the first detachment of 153, and will return the day after to-morrow. We have now remaining for departure next Friday or Saturday at furthest the following transport vessels:- Stanley, 160 men, 400 loads, six donkeys; Hull of Florida 160 men, 100 loads, six donkeys; Peace, 50 men, 100 loads; 1st barge, 35 men; 2nd barge, 50 men; Henry Reed, 30 men, 100 loads; 3rd barge, 50 men; 4th barge, 35 men -- total 590 men, 700 loads, 12 donkeys. There will be then none remaining at Stanley Pool.

"We shall push on as fast as the steamers can tow the barges, which will be probably the rate the slow paddle boat En Avant ascended in 1883. Near Stanley Falls or at the rapids of the Byerre River I will form an entrenched camp and must use every precaution to make this camp safe! During the ascent of the Congo I shall have leisure to study this question. Having formed a safe camp, I shall push on lightly equipped and make forced marches through the unknown territory.

"Until we have reached the site of our camp on the Upper Congo and the Stanley descends to bring up the detachment which will be left at Bobola, upon Major Barttelot, you cannot receive any further direct news from us.

"Yours very sincerely,

"HENRY M. STANLEY."

SPORTING INTELLIGENCE.

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY v. SUSSEX.

The Cambridge Eleven of 1887 will have occasion to remember their visit to Brighton. Yesterday they were in the field the whole day, and runs were scored against them at the rate of between 70 and 80 an hour. Sussex won the toss and went in first. Tester and Quailie opening the batting at five minutes past 12. Messrs. Hale and Toppin had charge of the bowling. Though the attack was varied -- Mr. Martineau relieving Mr. Hale at 48 -- the score reached 62 before Tester was bowled. Mr. Cotterill joined Quailie, who was batting in fine style. Mr. Ford superseded Mr. Toppin, and the change had the desired effect, as at 76 the amateur was taken at slip. Mr. F.M. Lucas was bowled at 102, and 14 runs later Quailie's superb innings was closed by a ball from Mr. Ford. Four down, Mr. M.P. Lucas and Jesse Hide, despite bowling changes, put on 63 runs for the fifth wicket, before the former was taken at point. Now followed the feat of the day. Both Jesse Hide and Humphreys, who became partners at 179, hit with the greatest freedom. They added 136 runs before Hide was bowled for 115 -- obtained out of 199 scored in the two hours that he was at the wicket. He made 20 fours, four threes, six twos, and 11 singles. His only chance was to Mr. Hale at mid-off, when he had made 63. Bean and Humphreys were next together, and their partnership yielded 65 runs. Humphreys was eventually caught at extra cover-point. He was in three hours and a half, and his only mistake -- a chance to mid-off -- was when he had made 42. His principal items were ten fours, four threes, and ten twos.

The Cambridge University team is as follows:-Messrs. F. Marchant, C.D. Buxton, F. Thomas, E.

ACROSS THE CHANNEL IN A CANOE. --Yesterday afternoon a gentleman named Henderson arrived at Dover by the Calais boat, after having paddled across the Channel in a small canoe belonging to the Dover Rowing Club, and measuring not more than 4ft. or 5ft. in length. His absence had caused great anxiety, and it was feared he had been drowned. Mr. Henderson states that he left the English shores at 3 o'clock and, reached Calais Harbour at 3 o'clock yesterday morning. His only means of propelling himself was a double paddle.

Record of Research Trip to Tresyllian Castle

We left Tidpuddle at 9 a.m., following the coastal road to Cornwall. The greyness of the day accentuated the desolate nature of the landscape at winter's approach.

After luncheon at the King's Cove Inn, it was a short drive up through the moors to Tresyllian Castle.

We were welcomed by the charming Lady Gayle Tresyllian, who provided a full tour of the castle. The long, dark passageways hidden between the walls and the stone stairway winding up the tower both lend themselves to ghostly sightings. I drew maps of the castle rooms as well as the secret passageways, wearing a macintosh to protect my gown from the cobwebs.

Following our informative chat with the servants, Lady Gayle served a delightful tea. We departed Tresyllian Castle late in the afternoon and returned to King's Cove Inn for the night.

I guess the White Lady could stump anyone!! Maybe you'll find a few clues in this copy of an old map I found in the Library. I've updated it by adding some things that are now in the castle & by marking each person's bedchamber. Hope it helped!

Janara

- ② On clear moonlit nights, the White Lady wanders the Fighting Deck. If approached, she fades into the tower walls.
- ③ On All Hallows' Eve, 1793, the White Lady's disembodied head was seen glowing through the wall of the Master Bedroom.
- ④ The ghost of Sir Geoffrey Tresyllian, dressed in full armor, has been sighted on the battlements. When disturbed, he flies into a rage, and more than one man has lost his wits as a result of the encounter.

April 15

Hi there!

You'll never believe what's happened! I'm living in a castle in Cornwall, engaged to marry a British Lord! Now I'll be able to sit around in drawing rooms making polite conversation and sipping tea. What a life!

I guess you're wondering why I'm not back at Kent State. After finishing my semester here, I couldn't bear to come right home. So I figured I'd take a few months off and get some sort of job to see me through. I found an ad for a secretary to a Lord Jack Tresyllian at his castle in Cornwall, and now here I am.

Lord Jack wasn't at all what I'd expected. He's a young, down-to-earth guy, and not bad looking either. I was a goner from the start. Luckily he felt the same way, or I might be flinging myself off the cliff!! We're announcing our engagement at a party on May 3 for all the local blue bloods. I wish you could be here to help me remember which fork to use!

Seriously, some of these upper crust types will never speak to you again if you wear the wrong outfit to dinner. I'm really glad Jack has a sense of humor about it. He helps me to keep mine!

There is one bohemian in the crowd. Her name is Vivien Pentreath, and she's a painter and sculptor who lives nearby. She's one of those women who looks just as beautiful at 50 as she did at 25. According to Jack, she was the mistress of his Uncle Lionel, the previous Lord Tresyllian. Vivien's family has lived in Cornwall for ages and she can tell lots of wonderful old stories.

One person I could do without is Iris Vane (she's really called the Honourable Iris Vane, but you won't catch ME calling her that). She's a Mayfair debutante who came on as an instant friend of mine.

But there's something bitchy about her, and I think she's secretly in love with Jack. I guess castles breed romantic tangles...

Jack's best friend is Ian Fordyce. Ian's an officer in the Coldstream Guards and a real lady's man. According to Iris, Ian was madly in love with Deirdre Hallam, Jack's old girlfriend. Deirdre was never able to resist flirting with another man. But her involvement with Ian was the last straw for Jack, and they broke up.

Although this didn't seem to hurt Jack and Ian's friendship, something terrible happened to Deirdre. She was really upset by the breakup and ended up drowning in a well right here at the castle. Her body was never found. The water in the well is very salty, so they think it's been polluted by an underground tidal current and that she was washed out to sea.

Deirdre's death is really fueling the imaginations of some of the castle servants. Supposedly this place is haunted by an ancient ghost called the White Lady. Now they're saying that the White Lady has been seen in the newer Residential Wing of the castle (like any good ghost she used to stick to the old section) and that she looks just like Deirdre. WHOO-EE-OOO!!!

I think Deirdre's family has fallen under the spell of some old Cornish curse. Her grandfather, Mr. Poldark, also died recently under unusual circumstances. He became ill and went to a London doctor who specializes in strange drugs extracted from plants. As you might guess, the curse didn't work. The doctor, whose name is Wendish, was Uncle Lionel's best friend. He still comes to visit every now and then, and he really gives me the creeps.

Well, I suppose I can't blame him for wanting to stay at the castle. Everybody loves it here. I'm sending along a copy of the tourist brochure (the place is open to the public on weekends). So you can read all about it. The brochure mentions the White Lady. I'm sure she's a great tourist gimmick.

If you look at the second floor map, you'll see the library where I've been helping Jack catalog Uncle Lionel's collection of books and manuscripts. Lionel didn't spend his time at home looking after the estate the way Jack does. Instead, he used up the family fortune travelling all around the world. His last trip was to the Amazon River in South America where he caught some sort of fatal jungle disease.

The last months of Lionel's life were spent here in bed, and the castle was opened to the public in order to pay off his debts and medical bills. When Lionel died, Jack inherited everything, but he still hasn't been able to straighten out the finances. Supposedly Lionel hid a valuable treasure somewhere in the castle. If we can't find it, we will have to sell off the family heirlooms to pay Lionel's debts.

An antique dealer named Montague Hyde is always toddling down from London to see what he can get his hands on. I should be nicer to Mr. Hyde, who isn't such a bad sort, but every time I see him I'm reminded that all these beautiful things, some of which have been in the family for six or seven hundred years, might be on their way out the door. I think it should all be kept here forever.

I could go on and on about Cornwall and the castle and the strange habits of the upper crust, but I need to wade through a few more of Lionel's papers before dinner. I told Jack that I'd keep on with the cataloguing, even though I'm no longer his secretary. Who wants him bringing another woman in here? [smiley face]

Well, I hope to hear from you soon. I miss you and the rest of the gang and can't wait for you to come visit. It might be a long way, but how often do you get to stay in a "HAUNTED" castle!!

Lots of love,

Tamara

April 23

HELP!!

I think someone is trying to KILL me!! I know this sounds dramatic, but I really am scared!

You know I've never believed in ghosts. But now I've actually seen the White Lady! It was so frightening!!! I woke up in the middle of the night and there she was looking down on me. She had this terrible pale face which suddenly disappeared. Then an enormous black widow spider dropped onto my bed! I screamed and shook it off my blanket and the time Jack got there it was gone.

At first, I thought it was just a horrible dream. But a few days later, I opened my desk drawer and an adder reared out and almost bit me. Adders are such poisonous snakes that you can die from the bite! This time, the snake was found, so I knew it really happened.

No one has ever been threatened by the White Lady before. But some of the people who've seen the ghost recently say it looks just like Deirdre Hallam, that old girlfriend of Jack's who drowned in the castle well. Do you think she's come back to torment me for taking her place??

I don't know what to do! I know it's a big favor to ask because it's such a long way, but won't you PLEASE come to help me? You've solved so many mysteries. I'm sure you can help figure out this one!!

Love,

Tamara

UNDERGROUND COMPLEX

This schematic represents your new environment. Study it carefully. Should you be awakened, your survival and that of Cortra will depend on how successfully you manipulate your robots through this complex.

The consequences of disorganization during a crisis were spelled out to you in graphic detail during your briefing. Let this reminder suffice: you must remain continually aware of your robots' precise locations. Cycles spent determining a robot's whereabouts will only increase the number of surface-side casualties.

For this reason, you are strongly advised to utilize this schematic and the discs (Symbolized below) to track your robots' movements.

Pleasant dreams.

Easy, Labor-Saving Magic Ritual for Build-Your-Own Medieval Village

Rising Balloon (A) pulls String (B) that turns Winch (C) which swings Boom (D) so that Extra-Long Wand (E) makes three passes over ordinary Size 6579 $\frac{1}{8}$  Top Hat (F). When Balloon bursts on Very Sharp Needle (G), explosion startles Insane Giant Magpie (H) who happens to be roosting nearby. Magpie spies and seizes Worthless Bauble (I) sewn to 13-Acre Cloth Handkerchief (J), uncovering Top Hat. Meanwhile, Tumbling Eggs (K) from Upset Nest (L) trip Heavy-Duty Spring (M), releasing Boot (N) which kicks Do-It-Yourself Home Sorcerer (O) who yelps special "Hey, Presto!" Spell (P), causing entire Build-Your-Own Medieval Village Complete With Enchanter's Hall (Q) to magically emerge from hat.

Dear New Employee,

Welcome to Happitec Corporation! As you know, the Happitec motto is "We'll bring a smile to your computer." We aim to make people happy, and that includes our employees here at Happitec. You have already learned of the many benefits we offer you! In turn, we expect you to make us happy by being a dedicated, responsible employee.

How do you make Happitec happy? No problem! We keep things rolling smoothly simply by following the rules and regulations set down by our founder and president, Leo J. Zereb. And to make sure you learn every one of these rules and regulations, we're sending you to a special training seminar at Happitec International Headquarters in Paris, France!

That's right, you're going on a two-week, all-expenses-paid trip to Paris, courtesy of Happitec. You'll enjoy a six-day training seminar with experienced Happitec staff members. Then you'll thrill to a full week of fun in the City of Lights! And that's not all! You'll also get $75 spending money! Does that put a great big Happitec smile on your face, new employee?

The $75 money order is in the mail to your new home. To obtain your airline ticket, simply take this letter to your travel agency. Then you're on your way to Paris! Be sure to be on time for your flight. We've found that new employees who miss the training seminar usually aren't very happy at Happitec.

See you at the office!

The image shows a highly decorative title page. The text is centered within a large, pointed arch. The arch's interior is a light cream color, while its border is a vibrant red. At the top corners of the arch, there are intricate knotwork designs in yellow and blue. The arch is supported by two vertical columns on either side. These columns feature a white background with diagonal stripes in green and blue. Each column is topped with a classical-style capital in yellow and red. The base of the page is decorated with a wide, horizontal band of yellow and blue knotwork, mirroring the design in the arch's corners.

No worthier warrior was before
Lot became Lord of all the land:
with sword so sharp and shield that shines . . .
proud Paladin beyond reproach.

He husbands heavy chests of treasure,
the envy of every earl and king.
His soul is stirred by precious stones and silver, and gleaming gold which daily he doth gather.

No king so fair
by maid begot was ever there than good King Lot.

Matins

The tocsin tolls the time for Midnight prayers when the world's withdrawn in dreams.
Vigil voices vibrate, chanting shadows, as candle-flames full in our sleepy faces light us through long litanies.

Lauds

The Lord will listen as our lips show forth His praise in psalm and song.
A new day dawning for devotions with hearts and hands for Him alone.

Prime

Whatever tempests have tormented them outside our walls, we watch the waste with pity and compassion. All the poor we will relieve, receiving them like rich, God-guided guests whose gift is gratitude.

Terce

In the scriptorium the scribes, inspired to beauty and the bounty of the Book, create with colours and calligraphy another world to win souls and woo hearts with precious manuscripts . . . to Paradise.

Sext

At Midday, our one meal . . . then meditation on holy text and teaching at the table. Since labouring is prayer, we long to linger at our task of love: to thank the Lord for giving us the grace for gratitude.

None

Brothers and lay labour lovingly in kitchen;
cooking, baking, making medicines.
From the fields and gardens, fulsome harvest to feed ourselves and freely share what from God's gifts we gather humbly as His servants.

Vespers

The twilight brings its blessed peace unbroken.
The heart unravels riches of the hours spent in sweet Service and seeking Salvation.
Sleep and serenity, a sure repose after day is done . . . in dedication!

Compline

From dreadful dreams defend our rest, from fearful fantasies of night,
that sleep serene may sanctify both Abbot and all brethren now.
